Farm Management Development Programme

Are you taking charge or moving up? Are you a new Assistant Manager or looking to become one? Are you a farmer's son or daughter returning to the family farm?

The Farm Management Development Programme is a new course developed with farmers for farmers. This unique course has been developed by working closely with the Royal Agricultural University and key farmers within the industry.

It is targeted at helping individuals to develop the skills needed in a management role. Numbers are limited to 12 and successful candidates will have the chance of sharing experiences with a group of like minded people.

The course includes topics such as:

- Business Evaluation
- Cost of Production
- Marketing
- Business Planning
- People Management
- Leadership

Testimonial

"Since completing the first week of the Farm Management Development Programme, I arrived home with a new outlook on agriculture as a sector as well as a broader understanding of management."

"The course has made me rethink my business and how to take it forward in this ever-changing time within the industry."

Harry Middleditch - 2017 Delegate
